

Name: James Cross

Title: Open Works Director and founder

James is one of the founders and directors of Open Works Engineering. An engineer by trade, James has spent over 17 years developing counter-IED and counter-UAS technology, more recently developing the SkyWall counter-drone systems at Open Works.

James has been involved with many counter-UAS evaluations, predominantly in North America and Europe, and has been present during operational deployments of C-UAS in close protection missions. He is also working with National and international C-UAS programmes with a wide variety of end users, ranging from the US Army and UK MOD to the UK Police, Bundespolizei, FIFA and NATO.
