

Mr. Nikolaos Koromilas is a Police Lieutenant and the Supervisor of the Hellenic Police's UAV Service's Operations Office. Mr. Koromilas, a 2010 graduate of the Hellenic Police Academy, also has a Bachelor's degree in Economics from the University of Piraeus and is currently enrolled at the University of West Attica in a Master's program in Public Administration and Management. Apart from his work with the Hellenic Police Force, which began in 2008, he has been an active member of Syndicalist Action for about a decade. Mr. Koromilas has served as General Secretary of the Board Association of Police Officers of Southeastern Attica since 2020, as a representative in the Panhellenic Federation of Police Officers, and as a Regular Member of the Transfer Council of the Police Directorate of Southeast Attica. He is also a Professional Drone Pilot qualified by the European Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) and authorised to fly UAVs weighing up to 25kg (55lbs) under BVLOS, Night Flight, and Aerial Works ratings.